Originally, I wanted to sort, compare and analyze my experiences only on my own. I also wanted to gain new experience so that I could deduce the laws that govern the economy and human society, and that is why I started to educate myself from all possible sources, both classical and digital, as well as from social networks. Later, I understood that management education could be the right step for me, and in my search, the ESBM school and its way of teaching appealed to me the most. I completed all the learning phases and also participated in accompanying programs and workshops that brought me added value. Now I am aware of the connections and profit for my future that I got thanks to a quality study. I wish ESBM many more satisfied graduates in the future.

- Ing. Miloš Tlustý, CSc., DBA; graduate of the Executive DBA
