LLM Corporate Law is a specialised program that is designed for both legal trainees and middle and senior management who utilise legal theory in their everyday practice.

For the successful operation of lawyers, law managers or directors in companies and cooperatives, it is imperative to know the legislation of these corporations and at the same time to orientate themselves in the contract law.

The LLM Corporate Law specialization offers a detailed explanation of corporate law, contract law and further understanding of theory related to various legal branches with an emphasis on their use in practice. Students will have the opportunity to develop their acquired theory in addition to the above mentioned for example in the field of insolvency proceedings, in financial, international or labour law.

The LLM Corporate Law includes the following beyond the optional modules: Private Law, Corporate Law, Contract Law, Financial Law, Competition Economics, International Trade Law, Insolvency Proceedings and Liquidation and Labour Law.
